About Amazon Xtreme Fishing:

Established by Anglers for Anglers. Amazon Xtreme Fishing Adventures, LLC "AXF" now over 20yrs hosting trips as the only operation in Brazil which can offer a variety of destinations. Hosting anglers to one of its ultimate combination of Amazon's Finest Fleet of Luxury Yacht, Floating Hotel, First Class Lodge, Remote Headwater Camps, Exploratory Trips, to Jungle Campout trips, all with the Best Experience for Trophy Peacock Bass Fishing.

We are the owner, group operators, outfitters and organizers of all of our fishing destinations and work closely with all our providers. Being in control of the entire trips, no middleman, agents or other entities mitigating our responsibility in planning the logistics to organize how it's run, where to fish, this is how we can plan for an excellent trip. We offer an All-Inclusive* trip for our anglers. Myself (Capt. Marc) or one of our partners participates in all trips to oversee and coordinate the daily schedules with our providers to ensure that our trips are run with the highest quality fashion possible and to be there for our anglers in all aspects of their trip.

The Amazon Basin: Fish the Dry Season!

This is a region where world records have been broken and the only area in the World that holds Trophy Peacock Bass. Keep in mind that, for the most part, this is a trophy fishery and visiting anglers should be prepared to battle the trophy peacocks with large lures and flies. Often dense jungle growth encountered getting back into those "secret lagoons", not just favored but only known by our native guides as you chop your way through the jungle (if guest is physically capable). River levels in this watershed can change quickly and affect fishing conditions, regardless of the season or historical patterns. Navigation of boats may also be affected, but we go where the fishing is. Daytime temperatures typically range from 80-100 degrees during the day, but typically cool down to the 70s in the evening.

Catch, Shoot and Release Properly: We practice Catch & Release, this is why our fish are growing!

Five tips you should always follow to catch and release properly: “Your guide will help you how to get that $1M shot!”

- 1) Always wet your hands before handling the fish, avoid sunblock, or other chemicals on your hands
- 2) Keep the fish wet... you want to see the water dripping off the fish when you take the shot... a dry fish, is a bad photo
- 3) Cradle the fish and keep the fish safe, caution not to drop the fish... put the fish out to the camera, hold it with two hands, bend down for the shot, don't hold the fish at eye level.
- 4) If a fish eats the lure or fly deep, performing surgery will kill the fish, your guide will decide what to do
- 5) If you don't know how long to keep fish out of water, hold your breath as you photograph a fish out of water... as you feel uncomfortable, odds are, the fish does also, secure and put fish back in water while you prepare for the next shot.

See “How to take pictures with your trophy”.
